

LINIMENTS AND PLASTERS DISCARDED

Cream of Mustard Used in Place of Plasters or Liniments and Does Not Elicit.

Thousands are taking advantage of the generous offer made by The Cream of Mustard Company of South Norwalk, Conn., by sending for a jar of Cream of Mustard, which is the most powerful external preparation compounded. It is far superior to mustard plasters, turpentine, lard or any liniment on the market. It relieves congestion, inflammation and pain almost instantly. It takes the place of plasters or liniments for colds, pains and aches.

It has produced wonderful results with thousands afflicted with sore throat, tonsillitis, stiff neck, neuralgia, congestion, rheumatism, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, colds in the chest, bronchitis, croup, headache, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints and chilblains.

Every household should have a jar of Cream of Mustard in the medicine chest for emergency. Ask your druggist; 25c and 50c jars; hospital size $2.50.

The Cream of Mustard Co., South Norwalk, Conn.—Adv.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH

Try Before You Pay

PEP-SENN, the great discovery for ASTHMA, HAY FEVER, BRONCHITIS and CATARRH, has produced wonderful results with thousands of the most stubborn cases.

If you have experimented with other treatments and have failed do not be discouraged, but try at our expense this truly meritorious remedy.

Send right now for a free trial bottle. You forget it. Address THE PEP-SENN COMPANY, Wilton, Conn.

ROUND TRIP
BY TELEPHONE

BRATTLEBORO
TO RUTLAND

35c
FOR THREE MINUTES

No charge unless communication is established with person asked for. Telephone trips to other points at proportionately low rates. The Toll Operator will quote the rate to any point.

HORTON D. WALKER

EVERYTHING ELECTRICAL

Brattleboro, Vt.

Bond & Son

EXCLUSIVE UNDERTAKING
EMBALMERS
Automobile Service Tel. 264-W
BRATTLEBORO, VT.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

C. R. ALDRICH, M. D. Hours: 12:30 to 2:30, to 8. Office phone, 165-W; home, 165-R. X-ray work a specialty.

G. R. ANDERSON, Surgeon and Physician. Surgery a specialty. Office and residence, Brooks House, 128 Main St. Hours: Afternoons, 1:30 to 3; evenings, 7 to 8, except Tuesdays and Fridays. Sundays by appointment only. Phone, 246.

DR. GRACE W. BURNETT, Physician and Surgeon. Market block, Elliot St. Office hours: 9:30 to 9:30 a. m., 1:30 to 2:30, and 7 to 8 p. m. Telephone, 741.

DR. H. P. GREENE, Physician and Surgeon. Office, Bank block. Hours: 9:30 to 10 a. m., 1 to 3, and 7 to 8 p. m. Residence, 88 Green St. Telephone connection.

DR. G. B. HUNTER, Office at residence, West Brattleboro. 8 to 9 a. m.; 1 to 2, and 6:30 to 8 p. m. Telephone, 318.

DR. E. R. LYNCH, Surgeon. Office, Park Bldg., rooms 1 and 3; telephone, 540. Office hours: Until 9 a. m., 2 to 3, and 7 to 9 p. m.; Melrose hospital, telephone 201, 9 to 10 a. m. Residence, 141 Canal St., telephone, 177. Sundays by appointment only.

DR. A. I. MILLER, Hooker block, Brattleboro. Office hours: 8 to 9, 1 to 2, 6:30 to 8.

W. R. NOYES, M. D., Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 9 to 12, 1:30 to 5. Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Other hours and Sundays by appointment. Appointments for glasses fittings made by mail or express. Telephone, 246-W.

E. L. TRACY, M. D. Office and residence, 214 Main St. Hours: 8 to 9:30 a. m., 1 to 3, and 7 to 8:30 p. m. Telephone, 256.

DR. HENRY TUCKER, Residence, 12 Grove St.; telephone, 260. Office, 250 W. Main St. Hours: 1:30 to 3, and 7 to 8. Telephone, 29-W.

DR. H. L. WATERMAN, Office, Abbott's Bldg., Elliot St. Hrs.: 1:30-3, 6:30-8. Tel. 42-W.

W. H. LANE, M. D., 117 Main St. Hours: 1 to 3 and 7 to 8. Telephone, 49-W.

DR. C. G. WHEELER, Osteopathic Physician, 10 Crosby block. Office hours: 10 to 12 m., 2 to 4 p. m. Other hours by appointment. Telephone connections. Chestnut Hill.

B. E. WHITE, M. D., Physician and Surgeon. Main St., over Kuehl's store. Telephone 217.

CHASE & CHASE, Attorneys at Law, 215 Barber Building, Second Floor. Telephone 914.

JOHN E. GALE, Attorney at Law, Guilford, Vt. Telephone, 302-W.

HASKINS & SCHWENK, Attorneys and Counsellors at Law. Brattleboro, Vt.

FRANK E. BARBER, Attorney at Law. Room 7, Crosby block, Brattleboro.

ROBERT C. BACON, Attorney at Law. Wilder Building, Brattleboro.

G. B. HUGHES, Lawyer. Telephone, 739-W.

JAMES F. HELYAR, Surveyor and Contracting Engineer. Telephone, 246-W.

BARROWS & CO., Wholesale and Retail Dealers in coats of all kinds. Office, 37 Main St., Brattleboro.

BOND & SON, Exclusive undertaking. Automobile service. Telephone, 34-W.

'Phone 354-W
Moran & Rohde
Funeral Directors
57 Main St., Brattleboro

Reformer Advertising
Brings Good Returns

NAVAL SURGEON
HOARDER OF FOOD

Francis S. Nash and His Wife Indicted in Washington Under the Food Control Law.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The first prosecution for food hoarding under the terms of the food control law was undertaken by Clarence R. Wilson, food administrator here for the District of Columbia and formerly United States attorney here. The indictment handed up by the grand jury in the supreme court of the District of Columbia charges Francis S. Nash, Medical Director, U. S. N., and his wife, Caroline Nash, with the hoarding of nearly $2,000 worth of foodstuffs, including many staple articles of daily need, a family of three persons for a period of years.

Dr. Nash, upon his arrest, admitted the violation of the statute which forbids the hoarding of food supplies in excess of the needs of the number of persons dependent upon the head of the family for more than thirty days. The medical officer explained to the food authorities that in 1914 his wife inherited a legacy and that with his knowledge that serious conditions would result in the food markets if the general world war were prolonged they determined to supply themselves for any emergency. Since the outbreak of the war he said he and his wife had been investing a considerable portion of their incomes in foodstuffs, storing them in his house against a perhaps nationwide food shortage.

Dr. Nash admitted he had read warnings in the press of the intention of the local food authorities to attempt to break up the practice of hoarding. He had endeavored to dispose of some of his surplus through a Washington grocer.

It was in the transfer of the foodstuffs from the Nash home to the store of the purveyor that the food administrator's suspicions became aroused and the investigation with a search of the Nash home followed.

The inventory of the foodstuffs which Dr. Nash and his wife had hoarded disclosed that at wholesale prices his stock represented $1,924. In the inventory were such items as 185 pounds of strip bacon, 122 pounds of ham, 442 pounds of substitute lard, 138 cans of sardines, 77 cans of salmon, 192 cans of prepared soups, 112 cans of French peas, 108 cans of baked beans, 90 cans of asparagus tips, 57 cans of pimento, one ton of granulated sugar, 595 pounds of brown sugar, 637 pounds of cut sugar, 68 bags of salt, 150 pounds of loose salt, 31-2 gallons of maple syrup, 30 pounds of gumdrops, 20 pounds of chocolate candy and 375 pounds of flour.

of the high school read Gen. John A. Logan's general order for the first Memorial day observance and President Abraham Lincoln's address at Gettysburg.

An unexpected feature was given at this time, being a Washington's Birthday exercise entitled Patriotic Choppers, by 13 children from the central school in Dummerston, who were drilled by the teacher, Miss Gertrude Kingsbury, and who came here at request of members of the Woman's Relief corps who saw them give the exercise at the Dummerston service in the forenoon.

The exercise was principally by six boys and six girls, Lawrence Blood, Edward Davis, Raymond Fisher, Merion Hazelton, Henry Evans, Robert Wheeler, Ruby Wilder, Ruth Stockwell, Helen Blood, Marion Loughton, Helen Fisher and Dorothy Hewitt, while toward the latter part Margaret Laughlin, much smaller than the others, had a part with an American flag. The children were in costume, the girls carrying flags and the boys hatchets, and their songs and drill were well executed and very pleasing.

Ernest V. Barre sang two selections, "Tenting Tonight" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the audience taking up the choruses at his suggestion, after which the chairman presented Rev. Mr. Brownell.

The speaker stated that when the commander asked him to give the address it was with the request, in the spirit of a true soldier, that special attention be given to the young men who are fighting for America today, the Civil war veterans having abundant praise in the years gone by. He reminded the Grand Army veterans that other generations had been born since the Civil war and that if in recent years the people had been remiss in giving the veterans the honor due it was through ignorance and not because of any lack of the proper spirit.

We are now led to a greater appreciation of what you did in former years, the speaker said. The spirit which you exemplified is again brought to our attention by the war that is before us, and we pledge you that the union which you fought to save shall be preserved, undivided by sedition and untrammelled by the feet of tyrants.

It is not the war itself but the issues involved that strike terror to the hearts of Americans, Mr. Brownell asserted, and then he told how nobly the country had risen to meet the emergency of the great conflict. The attacks upon the characters of our soldiers and sailors are a base libel and scandal, he exclaimed, a reproach upon our churches and the homes from which they came.

They are the finest there are in the world and have gone forth with a spirit that is unconquerable. We put our trust in these men, and they will speak long after Germany's guns are silent.

The war will be won, he declared, by the women of America because of the sacrifices they are making and will make until it is over. It will be won by the service of the American women, who were making sacrifices for two years while the men were discussing such irrelevant topics as pacifism and preparedness, and they will be as faithful in this war as they have been in every war since Betsey Ross put the Stars and Stripes together.

It will not be won by the forces already in the field, by the sacrifices already made or by the service already rendered, America is in this war to a finish. England has carried it on; it is ours to see it through.

For us the war has only just begun, and before the day of victory dawns there must be a long night of darkness and peril and loss. It will be won by men now in citizens' clothing, by money now in the banks, by service not yet rendered.

Do you shoulder at the cost of winning this war? It will cost a thousand times more to lose it. Defeat would mean the loss of everything we hold dear. I have heard you veterans say: "I should like to go if I could." Is there nothing you can do? The speaker then told of the splendid sight recently of the boys in blue accompanying a company of young men to the station on their way to camp, and continued: You can render a service by your presence, and example in marching in the line when the boys leave.

Rev. Mr. Brownell declared he could not close without making two appeals. If you have anything to do for your country do it now. If you have any treasure which you owe your republic give it now. Now is the time that the country must be saved. The other appeal was that every person in the house bow one minute in silent prayer for the success of our army and navy and the security of our republic, which was done.

After the address Miss Mary Hutchins sang Freedom's Starry Banner, and the audience rose and sang one stanza of America, accompanied by the band. The audience remained standing in their places until the Grand Army post and other organizations had marched out.

The procession was formed on Main street, headed north, in this order: Chief of Police George Wilson and Policeman Ellis G. Worden, Chief Marshal Luke Ferriter and aids, T. W. Eason, John M. Tucker and Frank Stockwell; the Brattleboro military band, Capt. T. W. Haigh drum major; St. Michael's cadets in uniform; Sedgwick post, No. 8, G. A. R.; the Spanish-American war veterans; the Sons of Veterans; Quoniam tribe of Red Men; Boy Scouts; automobiles carrying veterans, the speaker and others having part in the day's services.

After the parade had gone to the common, where prayer was offered by Rev. Douglas G. Guest of the Methodist church, two street cars with members of Sedgwick Woman's Relief corps carrying baskets of flowers left for Prospect hill, and on the return of the parade from the common school children with flowers fell in just ahead of the automobile.

On the arrival of the procession at Prospect Hill cemetery a halt was made near the United States burial plot, where prayer was offered by Rev. I. M. Compton of the West Brattleboro Baptist church. Ranks were broken and delegations of veterans went to Morning and St. Michael's Roman Catholic cemeteries, the Spanish-American war veterans going to the latter cemetery to decorate the grave of a former comrade. The procession then returned to Main street, some falling out at G. A. R. hall and others going to the town hall.

They'll have to pass that way some other time

According to the book and our speedometer we are passing there now, ma!

WE WILL BE WELL REPAID GOING THROUGH THESE LONG STRETCHES OF DREARY COUNTRY WHEN WE COME TO THAT WONDERFUL SCENERY!

AREN'T WE NEAR IT YET PA? I'M GETTING TIRED OF THIS SAME LANDSCAPE

WE'LL REACH IT IN ABOUT AN HOUR! IT WILL BE WORTH YOUR PATIENCE!

THE BEAUTY OF TAKING A TRIP LIKE THIS BY AUTO IS TO VIEW SOME OF THE BEAUTY OF THE COUNTRY AS WE TRAVEL

WON'T BE GLORIOUS, I'VE ALWAYS WANTED TO SEE THAT

WE WILL BE WELL REPAID GOING THROUGH THESE LONG STRETCHES OF DREARY COUNTRY WHEN WE COME TO THAT WONDERFUL SCENERY!

STRENGTH MESSAGE.
(Continued from Page 1.)

of the high school read Gen. John A. Logan's general order for the first Memorial day observance and President Abraham Lincoln's address at Gettysburg.

An unexpected feature was given at this time, being a Washington's Birthday exercise entitled Patriotic Choppers, by 13 children from the central school in Dummerston, who were drilled by the teacher, Miss Gertrude Kingsbury, and who came here at request of members of the Woman's Relief corps who saw them give the exercise at the Dummerston service in the forenoon.

The exercise was principally by six boys and six girls, Lawrence Blood, Edward Davis, Raymond Fisher, Merion Hazelton, Henry Evans, Robert Wheeler, Ruby Wilder, Ruth Stockwell, Helen Blood, Marion Loughton, Helen Fisher and Dorothy Hewitt, while toward the latter part Margaret Laughlin, much smaller than the others, had a part with an American flag. The children were in costume, the girls carrying flags and the boys hatchets, and their songs and drill were well executed and very pleasing.

Ernest V. Barre sang two selections, "Tenting Tonight" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the audience taking up the choruses at his suggestion, after which the chairman presented Rev. Mr. Brownell.

The speaker stated that when the commander asked him to give the address it was with the request, in the spirit of a true soldier, that special attention be given to the young men who are fighting for America today, the Civil war veterans having abundant praise in the years gone by. He reminded the Grand Army veterans that other generations had been born since the Civil war and that if in recent years the people had been remiss in giving the veterans the honor due it was through ignorance and not because of any lack of the proper spirit.

We are now led to a greater appreciation of what you did in former years, the speaker said. The spirit which you exemplified is again brought to our attention by the war that is before us, and we pledge you that the union which you fought to save shall be preserved, undivided by sedition and untrammelled by the feet of tyrants.

It is not the war itself but the issues involved that strike terror to the hearts of Americans, Mr. Brownell asserted, and then he told how nobly the country had risen to meet the emergency of the great conflict. The attacks upon the characters of our soldiers and sailors are a base libel and scandal, he exclaimed, a reproach upon our churches and the homes from which they came.

They are the finest there are in the world and have gone forth with a spirit that is unconquerable. We put our trust in these men, and they will speak long after Germany's guns are silent.

The war will be won, he declared, by the women of America because of the sacrifices they are making and will make until it is over. It will be won by the service of the American women, who were making sacrifices for two years while the men were discussing such irrelevant topics as pacifism and preparedness, and they will be as faithful in this war as they have been in every war since Betsey Ross put the Stars and Stripes together.

It will not be won by the forces already in the field, by the sacrifices already made or by the service already rendered, America is in this war to a finish. England has carried it on; it is ours to see it through.

For us the war has only just begun, and before the day of victory dawns there must be a long night of darkness and peril and loss. It will be won by men now in citizens' clothing, by money now in the banks, by service not yet rendered.

Do you shoulder at the cost of winning this war? It will cost a thousand times more to lose it. Defeat would mean the loss of everything we hold dear. I have heard you veterans say: "I should like to go if I could." Is there nothing you can do? The speaker then told of the splendid sight recently of the boys in blue accompanying a company of young men to the station on their way to camp, and continued: You can render a service by your presence, and example in marching in the line when the boys leave.

Rev. Mr. Brownell declared he could not close without making two appeals. If you have anything to do for your country do it now. If you have any treasure which you owe your republic give it now. Now is the time that the country must be saved. The other appeal was that every person in the house bow one minute in silent prayer for the success of our army and navy and the security of our republic, which was done.

After the address Miss Mary Hutchins sang Freedom's Starry Banner, and the audience rose and sang one stanza of America, accompanied by the band. The audience remained standing in their places until the Grand Army post and other organizations had marched out.

The procession was formed on Main street, headed north, in this order: Chief of Police George Wilson and Policeman Ellis G. Worden, Chief Marshal Luke Ferriter and aids, T. W. Eason, John M. Tucker and Frank Stockwell; the Brattleboro military band, Capt. T. W. Haigh drum major; St. Michael's cadets in uniform; Sedgwick post, No. 8, G. A. R.; the Spanish-American war veterans; the Sons of Veterans; Quoniam tribe of Red Men; Boy Scouts; automobiles carrying veterans, the speaker and others having part in the day's services.

After the parade had gone to the common, where prayer was offered by Rev. Douglas G. Guest of the Methodist church, two street cars with members of Sedgwick Woman's Relief corps carrying baskets of flowers left for Prospect hill, and on the return of the parade from the common school children with flowers fell in just ahead of the automobile.

On the arrival of the procession at Prospect Hill cemetery a halt was made near the United States burial plot, where prayer was offered by Rev. I. M. Compton of the West Brattleboro Baptist church. Ranks were broken and delegations of veterans went to Morning and St. Michael's Roman Catholic cemeteries, the Spanish-American war veterans going to the latter cemetery to decorate the grave of a former comrade. The procession then returned to Main street, some falling out at G. A. R. hall and others going to the town hall.

They'll have to pass that way some other time

According to the book and our speedometer we are passing there now, ma!

WE WILL BE WELL REPAID GOING THROUGH THESE LONG STRETCHES OF DREARY COUNTRY WHEN WE COME TO THAT WONDERFUL SCENERY!

AREN'T WE NEAR IT YET PA? I'M GETTING TIRED OF THIS SAME LANDSCAPE

WE'LL REACH IT IN ABOUT AN HOUR! IT WILL BE WORTH YOUR PATIENCE!

THE BEAUTY OF TAKING A TRIP LIKE THIS BY AUTO IS TO VIEW SOME OF THE BEAUTY OF THE COUNTRY AS WE TRAVEL

WON'T BE GLORIOUS, I'VE ALWAYS WANTED TO SEE THAT

WE WILL BE WELL REPAID GOING THROUGH THESE LONG STRETCHES OF DREARY COUNTRY WHEN WE COME TO THAT WONDERFUL SCENERY!

AREN'T WE NEAR IT YET PA? I'M GETTING TIRED OF THIS SAME LANDSCAPE

WE'LL REACH IT IN ABOUT AN HOUR! IT WILL BE WORTH YOUR PATIENCE!

THE BEAUTY OF TAKING A TRIP LIKE THIS BY AUTO IS TO VIEW SOME OF THE BEAUTY OF THE COUNTRY AS WE TRAVEL

STRENGTH MESSAGE.
(Continued from Page 1.)

of the high school read Gen. John A. Logan's general order for the first Memorial day observance and President Abraham Lincoln's address at Gettysburg.

An unexpected feature was given at this time, being a Washington's Birthday exercise entitled Patriotic Choppers, by 13 children from the central school in Dummerston, who were drilled by the teacher, Miss Gertrude Kingsbury, and who came here at request of members of the Woman's Relief corps who saw them give the exercise at the Dummerston service in the forenoon.

The exercise was principally by six boys and six girls, Lawrence Blood, Edward Davis, Raymond Fisher, Merion Hazelton, Henry Evans, Robert Wheeler, Ruby Wilder, Ruth Stockwell, Helen Blood, Marion Loughton, Helen Fisher and Dorothy Hewitt, while toward the latter part Margaret Laughlin, much smaller than the others, had a part with an American flag. The children were in costume, the girls carrying flags and the boys hatchets, and their songs and drill were well executed and very pleasing.

Ernest V. Barre sang two selections, "Tenting Tonight" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the audience taking up the choruses at his suggestion, after which the chairman presented Rev. Mr. Brownell.

The speaker stated that when the commander asked him to give the address it was with the request, in the spirit of a true soldier, that special attention be given to the young men who are fighting for America today, the Civil war veterans having abundant praise in the years gone by. He reminded the Grand Army veterans that other generations had been born since the Civil war and that if in recent years the people had been remiss in giving the veterans the honor due it was through ignorance and not because of any lack of the proper spirit.

We are now led to a greater appreciation of what you did in former years, the speaker said. The spirit which you exemplified is again brought to our attention by the war that is before us, and we pledge you that the union which you fought to save shall be preserved, undivided by sedition and untrammelled by the feet of tyrants.

It is not the war itself but the issues involved that strike terror to the hearts of Americans, Mr. Brownell asserted, and then he told how nobly the country had risen to meet the emergency of the great conflict. The attacks upon the characters of our soldiers and sailors are a base libel and scandal, he exclaimed, a reproach upon our churches and the homes from which they came.

They are the finest there are in the world and have gone forth with a spirit that is unconquerable. We put our trust in these men, and they will speak long after Germany's guns are silent.

The war will be won, he declared, by the women of America because of the sacrifices they are making and will make until it is over. It will be won by the service of the American women, who were making sacrifices for two years while the men were discussing such irrelevant topics as pacifism and preparedness, and they will be as faithful in this war as they have been in every war since Betsey Ross put the Stars and Stripes together.

It will not be won by the forces already in the field, by the sacrifices already made or by the service already rendered, America is in this war to a finish. England has carried it on; it is ours to see it through.

For us the war has only just begun, and before the day of victory dawns there must be a long night of darkness and peril and loss. It will be won by men now in citizens' clothing, by money now in the banks, by service not yet rendered.

Do you shoulder at the cost of winning this war? It will cost a thousand times more to lose it. Defeat would mean the loss of everything we hold dear. I have heard you veterans say: "I should like to go if I could." Is there nothing you can do? The speaker then told of the splendid sight recently of the boys in blue accompanying a company of young men to the station on their way to camp, and continued: You can render a service by your presence, and example in marching in the line when the boys leave.

Rev. Mr. Brownell declared he could not close without making two appeals. If you have anything to do for your country do it now. If you have any treasure which you owe your republic give it now. Now is the time that the country must be saved. The other appeal was that every person in the house bow one minute in silent prayer for the success of our army and navy and the security of our republic, which was done.

After the address Miss Mary Hutchins sang Freedom's Starry Banner, and the audience rose and sang one stanza of America, accompanied by the band. The audience remained standing in their places until the Grand Army post and other organizations had marched out.

The procession was formed on Main street, headed north, in this order: Chief of Police George Wilson and Policeman Ellis G. Worden, Chief Marshal Luke Ferriter and aids, T. W. Eason, John M. Tucker and Frank Stockwell; the Brattleboro military band, Capt. T. W. Haigh drum major; St. Michael's cadets in uniform; Sedgwick post, No. 8, G. A. R.; the Spanish-American war veterans; the Sons of Veterans; Quoniam tribe of Red Men; Boy Scouts; automobiles carrying veterans, the speaker and others having part in the day's services.

After the parade had gone to the common, where prayer was offered by Rev. Douglas G. Guest of the Methodist church, two street cars with members of Sedgwick Woman's Relief corps carrying baskets of flowers left for Prospect hill, and on the return of the parade from the common school children with flowers fell in just ahead of the automobile.

On the arrival of the procession at Prospect Hill cemetery a halt was made near the United States burial plot, where prayer was offered by Rev. I. M. Compton of the West Brattleboro Baptist church. Ranks were broken and delegations of veterans went to Morning and St. Michael's Roman Catholic cemeteries, the Spanish-American war veterans going to the latter cemetery to decorate the grave of a former comrade. The procession then returned to Main street, some falling out at G. A. R. hall and others going to the town hall.

They'll have to pass that way some other time

According to the book and our speedometer we are passing there now, ma!

WE WILL BE WELL REPAID GOING THROUGH THESE LONG STRETCHES OF DREARY COUNTRY WHEN WE COME TO THAT WONDERFUL SCENERY!

AREN'T WE NEAR IT YET PA? I'M GETTING TIRED OF THIS SAME LANDSCAPE

WE'LL REACH IT IN ABOUT AN HOUR! IT WILL BE WORTH YOUR PATIENCE!

THE BEAUTY OF TAKING A TRIP LIKE THIS BY AUTO IS TO VIEW SOME OF THE BEAUTY OF THE COUNTRY AS WE TRAVEL

WON'T BE GLORIOUS, I'VE ALWAYS WANTED TO SEE THAT

WE WILL BE WELL REPAID GOING THROUGH THESE LONG STRETCHES OF DREARY COUNTRY WHEN WE COME TO THAT WONDERFUL SCENERY!

AREN'T WE NEAR IT YET PA? I'M GETTING TIRED OF THIS SAME LANDSCAPE

WE'LL REACH IT IN ABOUT AN HOUR! IT WILL BE WORTH YOUR PATIENCE!

THE BEAUTY OF TAKING A TRIP LIKE THIS BY AUTO IS TO VIEW SOME OF THE BEAUTY OF THE COUNTRY AS WE TRAVEL

STRENGTH MESSAGE.
(Continued from Page 1.)

of the high school read Gen. John A. Logan's general order for the first Memorial day observance and President Abraham Lincoln's address at Gettysburg.

An unexpected feature was given at this time, being a Washington's Birthday exercise entitled Patriotic Choppers, by 13 children from the central school in Dummerston, who were drilled by the teacher, Miss Gertrude Kingsbury, and who came here at request of members of the Woman's Relief corps who saw them give the exercise at the Dummerston service in the forenoon.

The exercise was principally by six boys and six girls, Lawrence Blood, Edward Davis, Raymond Fisher, Merion Hazelton, Henry Evans, Robert Wheeler, Ruby Wilder, Ruth Stockwell, Helen Blood, Marion Loughton, Helen Fisher and Dorothy Hewitt, while toward the latter part Margaret Laughlin, much smaller than the others, had a part with an American flag. The children were in costume, the girls carrying flags and the boys hatchets, and their songs and drill were well